

Most fans from opposing teams do not realize that the bell is rung by Bulldog fans until midnight after a game victory, and all night after a win over Georgia Tech. I certainly have heard a lot of clanging through the years as it is beautiful music to this English bulldog's ears.

